

*According to the Houston Chronicle,
"Deanna Julian displays vivacity, charm, and a bright vocal style."*

She brings a commanding presence and powerhouse vocals to stages around the world, on land and at sea. Staying busy and well traveled as a guest artist within the cruise industry since 2007, she has starred in more than 20 production shows, and is a dynamic and versatile headliner in two self-built solo shows. Her first solo album, Wake Me Shake Me, was released in 2009 with Green Zebra Records. She spends her time on land in her home state of Texas where she is also a lead singer for the Houston based rock and roll band, P.F. and the Flyers.

Not only a versatile singer, but an actor as well, Ms. Julian is a proud member of the Actor's Equity Association. Among her extensive stage credits are Theatre Under the Stars with Tony Award winner Leslie Uggams and Broadway veteran Ken Page, Stages Repertory, and the prestigious Alley Theatre. Some favorite past roles include Rusty in Footloose, Angel in The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas, Audrey in Little Shop of Horrors, Rapunzel in Into The Woods, Emma Carew in Jekyll & Hyde, Judy Denmark and Ginger DelMarco in Ruthless!, The Spiderwoman in Kiss of the Spiderwoman, Cunegonde in Candide, and Annie Oakley in Annie Get Your Gun. She has been a featured soloist in the Houston Pride Cabaret, and has performed with Bayou City Concert Musicals. She can also be heard as the voice of Pandaba in the Hello Kitty animated series.

Deanna holds a Bachelor of Music with a degree in Vocal Performance from Hardin Simmons University where she was a founding member of the Spurs competition dance team and sang with the World Famous Cowboy Band. She is also the recipient of their 2013 Outstanding Young Alumni award.
